SCIENCE MUSEUM SUMMER EXHIBITION

This summer bring your children to the Science Museum! They're welcome any time of the year but this summer we're offering them something very special. We're holding an extraordinary exhibition aimed particularly at the under-fourteens. It will be packed full of incredible things which will surprise, amaze and entertain young minds. Older minds will find a lot to occupy them too!

Just one of the many treats in store will be the Robot Hall. Here you'll find the very latest in robotic designs, ranging from the tiny to the enormous. Kids can programme a robot to perform different functions and compete with other robots doing the same task.

Another amazing feature of this exhibition is a link-up to a real space shuttle. On certain days children will be able to talk directly to an astronaut in space. What a conversation that could be! In addition to this both parents and children will be able to experience weightlessness in our special gravity-free room and see what it really feels like to be an astronaut!

These are only a couple of the attractions and there will be much, much more! So come along with your children to the Science Museum Summer Exhibition!

- 1 This text is
 - A from a guidebook.
 - B an article.
 - C an advertisement.
- 2 The exhibition is
 - A for children only.
 - B for adults and children.
 - C for people over fourteen.
- 3 Children will be able to
 - A see different types of robots.
 - B make a robot.
 - C watch programmes about robots.
- 4 An astronaut will
 - A be at the exhibition on some days.
 - B talk to the children on some days.
 - C give a talk on space on some days.
- 5 There will be a room
 - A which is identical to a space shuttle.
 - B where you can have the experience of being in space.
 - C where you can learn about gravity.

LIFE ON MARS?

In the UK people celebrate the first day of April by playing jokes on each other and sometimes TV programmes and newspapers join in the fun! There have been some very clever jokes over the years, which people believe because they are in the paper or on TV.

One that I remember vividly from when I was young was on a programme called Tomorrow's World. This programme looked at unusual scientific inventions and stories. It was on every week, and was very popular. Well, this particular 1 April the programme started off looking at the number of 'missing people' in Britain over the last year. They then went on to 'prove' that the USA and Russia were starting a colony on the planet Mars and this was where all these people had gone! They showed photographs of the planet with heat rising from the ground. Apparently the people were living under the ground in specially designed homes.

I believed this story completely! It seemed so real and so possible. That was until I got to school the next day and realised that the whole thing was a joke! But it was a very clever joke and one that I have always remembered.

1 On 1 April

- A there are parties.
- B people exchange stories.
- C there are untrue stories in the media.

2 Tomorrow's World

- A was an educational programme for schoolchildren.
- B was on TV regularly.
- C taught people how to invent things.

3 This particular programme was about

- A people on another planet.
- B the space development programme.
- C the problem of people who run away.

4 On the programme you could see

- A the people.
- B the people's homes.
- C the atmosphere.

5 The writer

- A still believes the story.
- B didn't like the joke.
- C liked the joke.
